DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, drawn to a body fluid absorbent wearing article, classified in class 604, subclass 380.
- II. Claims 6-15, drawn to a body fluid absorbent wearing article, classified in class 604, subclass 378.
- III. Claims 16-20, drawn to a liquid absorbent panel, classified in class 428, subclass 170.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (I or II) and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination of Group I does not require a liquid absorbent panel with disconnected areas as set forth in the Group III claims and the combination of Group II does not require the a flat second opposite side of the base portion and the combination of protuberances, wall portions, flat side of the base portion and specific densities thereof as set forth in the Group III claims. The subcombination has separate utility such as scouring pad or cosmetic applicator.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the Group II claims do not require the features of compressive restorative elasticity, a first subpanel having a flat portion, and a flat second subpanel and these features in combination with specific density or fiber weight percentages or superabsorbent weight percentages as set forth in the Group I claims. The subcombination has separate utility such as a shock absorbing pad to be placed inside a shoe (Note the description on page 1, lines 4-7 of the instant specification).

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification which would lead to diverging fields of search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. It is further noted that line 1 of claims 2-5 filed 1-23-04 did not comply with 37 CFR 1.121 effective 7-30-04 because "claim" should be --Claim-- or "Claim" should be shown as being changed to --claim--. Furthermore, the preambles of claims 17-20 are not consistent with that of claim 16. Finally, claims 11 and 20 claim disconnected areas. "Disconnected" is defined as "To sever or interrupt the connection of or between". Where are such areas described in the original specification? Denoted in the Figures? Are they part of one of the surfaces of the base portion?
